THE ORIGIN'S QUEST

SCENE I – I First Game

We start off seeing the war of the Phaktionz' Realms, Prestige walks in

PRESTIGE    My bigotry has blinded me to this chaos, we must hurry, our solution will not be found here!

Zane suddenly wakes up, confused about his dream, but doesn't think much of it. He looks around

ZANE            I swear I heard a heard around here somewhere?

Looks at his deck

ZANE            I can't get my head scrambled today, I have a mission I need to complete, I need to redeem my father!

Gets out of his bed, feeling a sense of purpose and motivation

-T h e m e s o n g -

Zane is in class, constantly trying to answer the teacher's questions, but is getting every answer wrong, the class laughs except for one student. The teacher approaches Zane after class

TEACHER    You seemed pretty excited today, Mr. Zane, for better or for worse

ZANE            Yeah, today I have to prove myself, so I thought I'd try in class, well guessing didn't help out my mark, but it did help me motivate myself, which is just what I need

TEACHER    Well good luck in your proving, next time I hope you're more prepared but the participation was nice, have a good day Mr. Zane

Zane notices someone was watching him from the door, he starts to chase the stalker. Eventually, he finds himself in an abandoned classroom with a familiar mat lying on a table.

ZANE            Wait, that mat has the same symbol as my cards

Zane takes out his deck to confirm

LULO            Indeed it does
